From the President's Desk

by Cicero Town President Larry Dominick

Dear Cicero residents,

As the sun shines down on our beloved town, Summer in the Park's excitement continues on in Cicero. This season-long extravaganza has captured the hearts of kids and families, providing many engaging activities to make the most of these hot, sunny days.

As we enter July, the anticipation for Cicero Fest grows. From July 6 to July 9 at the Cicero Fairgrounds at 34th and Laramie, our town will burst with patriotic pride as we come together to celebrate the spirit of our great nation. Cicero Fest holds great significance as we commemorate our hard-fought independence and the values that unite us as a community.

Prepare to be dazzled by various musical performances that will have you tapping your feet to stunning fireworks that light up the night sky. Cicero Fest promises to be an unforgettable experience for all.

Join your friends, family, and neighbors in enjoying the festive atmosphere, savoring mouthwatering treats from local vendors, and creating beautiful memories that will last a lifetime. Let us come together as one community, proud of our beloved nation and embracing the vibrant diversity that makes Cicero so special.

Even without Cicero Fest, I can't help but feel a surge of patriotic pride. Independence Day is a time to reflect on the values our great nation was built upon and honor the sacrifices made by countless individuals who fought for our freedom.

In Cicero, we take this day to heart, recognizing the importance of our community in upholding the American dream. We are a testament to unity and the spirit of resilience, where people from all walks of life come together, supporting and uplifting one another.

So, as fireworks light up the night sky and the familiar tune of the national anthem fills the air, let us remember that our freedom is not to be taken for granted. It is a privilege that we must cherish and protect. Let us be grateful for our country's opportunities and strive to make our community an even better place for future generations.

On behalf of the entire town of Cicero, I wish you a happy and meaningful Independence Day. May this day be filled with joy, togetherness, and a renewed commitment to the principles that make our nation great.

Sincerely,

Larry Dominick
Cicero Town President

Cicero Celebrates Armed Services Day, Honors WWII Veteran

Cicero officials and residents came together on May 24 to commemorate Armed Services Day, paying tribute to military veterans who have served their country. The event's highlight was a special recognition of centenarian veteran Benito Morales, who turned 100 on June 9.

Morales, a distinguished World War II veteran, was honored for his remarkable service and bravery during the conflict. He was awarded the prestigious Bronze Star for his heroic actions in Erpel, Germany while serving with the 39th Infantry Regiment of the 9th Infantry Division. During a Nazi attack, Mr. Morales fearlessly rescued 11 injured soldiers under enemy fire. In recognition of his exceptional valor and heroism, his Bronze Star was recently upgraded to include a V for Valor and Heroism.

Furthermore, in 2017, Benito Morales was bestowed with the French Legion of Honor, the highest decoration for bravery awarded by the French Government. The ceremony occurred at the American Legion Manual Perez Jr Post 1017 in Chicago, an establishment named in honor of his late military colleague and friend.

"Cicero holds great pride in the dedication and sacrifice exhibited by all its veterans throughout the years, from World War I to the present day," Town President Larry Dominick said. "We are incredibly proud to honor veterans such as Benito Morales, who exemplify greatness through their courage and selflessness, regardless of personal safety."

Benito Morales' 100th birthday celebration comes with the added honor of the Board of Trustees resolution, passed on April 25, expressing deep gratitude for Morales' service and bestowing the town's highest honors upon him.

The town presented the resolution to Morales and his family as a testament to its deep respect for his exceptional achievements, unwavering courage, and unwavering dedication.

Cicero Hosts Special Fathers Day Celebration for Seniors

President Larry Dominick and his wife, Diana Dominick, hosted a memorable event on June 14, specifically honoring seniors who have been fathers. The occasion saw an impressive turnout of over 300 seniors who gathered at the Cicero Community Center to partake in a day filled with delectable food, lively dancing and captivating entertainment.

Diana Dominick, the Director of the Cicero Senior Center, expressed her enthusiasm for the Father's Day luncheon, emphasizing its popularity among the attendees.

"A father is the provider, the protector, the savior, the creator, and everything you can think of. Many of our fathers were grandfathers who did so much for their families, children and grandchildren, and we are excited to celebrate their special day," Dominick said.

She underscored the significance of recognizing the invaluable contributions made by husbands and fathers in supporting their families.

Former Town Assessor John Kociolko initiated the proceedings with a prayer of invocation, seeking blessings for fathers, grandfathers, great-grandfathers, godfathers, uncles, and brothers who have played significant roles in the lives of others. Kociolko specifically expressed gratitude for the immense contributions made by fathers throughout their children's lives.

Attendees were delighted by the presence of a local vendor, El Campeon restaurant, offering their renowned "virgin Piña Colada" beverage, a refreshing treat to enhance the festivities. Later, Dominick and her dedicated staff presented each father with a Town of Cicero baseball cap, creating an opportunity for an impressive group photograph where all fathers proudly donned their hats.

The event received valuable support from volunteers representing Elementary School District 99 and Morton High School District 201. These dedicated individuals generously served as the wait staff, ensuring that all attendees were treated to a delightful luncheon experience.

Volunteers worked the buffet line at the Father's Day Celebration, most coming from District 99 and Morton High School District 201.

Residents hit the dance floor after enjoying a good meal, all part of Cicero's many senior celebrations and events.

Pet Parade Delights at Cicero Library

The third annual Pet Parade occurred at the Cicero Public Library on June 16th, drawing residents from all corners of the town who brought their pets to show off pride in their furry – and not-so-furry – friends. Introduced by Sandra Tomschin, the Director of the Cicero Library, the parade has quickly become a popular tradition among summer festivities.

The Pet Parade has gained popularity, captivating children and families alike. Pet owners showcased an array of remarkable companions, including various breeds of dogs, a turtle, birds, and even a baby chick. Upon registration, participants received a pet fanny pack with a delightful surprise.

"We are thrilled to witness the overwhelming love and support the Pet Parade receives from our community. It has become a treasured tradition, and we are committed to ensuring its continuation as a staple of our library's summer festivities," Tomschin said.

At 2 pm, proud pet owners guided their furry and feathered companions around the library grounds. The joy and camaraderie shared among participants and spectators created an atmosphere of laughter, applause, and cheers for Cicero's tiny family members.

One Cicero resident showcases his furry friends who entered in the pet parade, a tradition that started before the pandemic and has continued at the library.

Cicero's Farmer's Market Delights at Community Park

Town President Larry Dominick and the Board of Trustees recently hosted Cicero's first-ever Farmer's Market and Artisan Fair. Taking place over two consecutive weekends in June, this eagerly anticipated event provided a platform for local artists, creators, and small producers to showcase and sell their creations to seniors and other residents at Cicero Community Park.

Under the guidance of Diana Dominick, the Cicero Senior Center Director, the market came to fruition and delighted both participants and visitors. The four days allowed talented individuals to display their skills and share their passion with a wider audience.

The market boasted a delightful array of handcrafted goods, locally sourced produce, delectable treats, and captivating artwork. From intricately designed jewelry to savory homemade preserves, there was something to captivate the senses and satisfy every taste. The event showcased Cicero's immense talent and entrepreneurial spirit, fostering a sense of unity and support among local artisans and producers. "I am truly delighted with the overwhelming success of our first Farmer's Market. It provided a wonderful platform for our local artists and creators to shine while bringing joy and a sense of community to our residents," Dominick said.

Cicero Hosts Inaugural Men's Health Event

Town President Larry Dominick and Cicero's Health Department hosted the inaugural Men's Health Event on June 15 at the Cicero Community Center. Vanessa Parrish, Director of Health Management, and Laura Rubio, the newly appointed Health Department Director, joined forces to organize this event focusing on men's health.

Cicero's male residents underwent free health screenings tailored to their needs and complimentary haircuts and nail trimmings provided by Bell-Mar Beauty College.

"We advise men to do the health screenings because they are beneficial, and people should take advantage of those services," Rubio said.

The health screenings encompassed specialized labs, podiatry assessments, dental exams, blood pressure measurements, and height, weight, and BMI calculations. Director Rubio explained that at the end of their experience, men could check out with a nurse practitioner who provided recommendations regarding their screenings.

"We're really pleased to have the opportunity to address another area of our community that can truly benefit from our services," Parrish said. She further emphasized the department's commitment to catering to various health concerns within the community. "We are very enthusiastic about addressing all areas of health as we continue to grow and provide the necessary information and services to support our community's needs."

The event started with a bilingual informational session on male-focused health aspects, delivered by Dr. Daniel Corredor in Spanish and English. Corredor highlighted the significance of raising awareness about men's health, especially during June, recognized as Men's Health Month. He emphasized the importance of regular follow-up and communication with doctors.

"These health problems can be prevented with regular follow-up and talking to your doctor. With some prevention and knowledge, we can make health more accessible and provide tools to manage one's health and prevent these issues," Corredor said.

The event aimed to provide crucial health screenings and empower men with information and resources to manage their well-being. This event aimed to create a healthier and more informed community by breaking the silence surrounding men's health.

Celebrate summer with our Ice Cream Social Friday, Aug. 4! The event is free with a Cicero Public Library card.

The Morton College Learning Center is recipient of the Gold Circle of Quality award from ExceleRate Illinois – a new quality rating and improvement system for early learning and development preschool providers.

We provide warm and welcoming atmosphere, where children 3-5 years old feel secure and eager to learn and grow. Our center delivers an exemplary educational environment for young children and serves as a model of teaching methodology for Morton College Early Childhood Education students. The coursework is designed to enhance the student's teaching experiences with young children. Students are provided with active learning experiences, application-based assignments, use of technology, and time to collaborate with their peers.

Our program provides an innovative curriculum with materials, experiences and teaching methods that are grounded in the principles of child development including age and individual appropriateness. All learning activities are presented through play. Our daily routine encourages children to explore, experiment, imitate, ask questions, and develop their critical thinking and social-emotional competence.

All half-day sessions are available for children of students, faculty, staff and the community. We keep in touch through newsletters, progress reports, and open houses.

Our "Preschool for All" provides interactions and experiences to help children to:

- Advance in language, cognitive, physical, and social-emotional skills.
- Develop problem-solving skills.
- Develop conflict resolution skills.
- Manage emotions and behaviors.
