From the President's Desk

by Cicero Town President Larry Dominick

Dear Cicero residents,

It's springtime in Cicero. Of course, that means we still have a chance of snow to go along with the severe weather (that we saw at the end of February), but it also means we can start looking forward to heading outside. In the meantime, though, we have plenty in store for March, no matter what the weather will bring, so let's jump straight into it.

Every year, we have an election in Cicero. This year's election is in line with the presidential election this fall, which traditionally draws in more coverage, but there are a lot of down-ballot races for people to cast votes for come March 19. Early voting starts March 4, Pulaski Day, and runs for two weeks. I cannot stress the importance of sharing your voice through the election, even if the presidential nominees have already been decided. Your vote matters!

We also have Easter on March 31, one of the earlier dates to celebrate the Christian holiday. With Easter running so early, the town's Easter celebration is also earlier than normal. On March 23, the Cicero Youth Commission and Department of Special Events will host the Community Center's annual event, featuring a visit by the Easter Bunny, arts and crafts, and great fun.

Typically, this would be held outdoors, but the weather and logistics make moving it into the center easier. The fun starts at noon, and the line begins even earlier. Be aware that this event is for Cicero residents only to ensure as many Cicero children can enjoy the Easter celebration as possible.

And it wouldn't be spring if we didn't discuss the annual Hearts and Shamrocks Dinner Dance on March 13. This lively event has been popular for Senior residents for many years, and this year's celebration should be no different. There will be a tasty meal, fun activities, and dancing, so RSVP before the event fills up!

It would not be spring without talking about Spring Training. The Cubs were so close to the playoffs last year, and critical moves this year have given the Chicago Faithful hope for better results, especially with Cody Bellinger signing just after Spring Training started. The season begins on April 1, and I cannot wait to see how it all plays out!

Sincerely,

Larry Dominick
Cicero Town President

P.S. As always, please feel free to contact me with concerns, questions, comments or suggestions at larry@thetownofcicero.com. Thank you.

Seniors Enjoy Community at Brunch Gathering

Cicero seniors were treated to a delightful brunch at Golden Corral on February 21. The event, organized by the Cicero Senior Center, aimed to foster camaraderie and provide a memorable outing for the community's older residents.

Diana Dominick, Director of the Cicero Senior Center, emphasized the center's commitment to enhancing the lives of its senior members.

"The Senior Center is proactive in finding new and diverse activities for our seniors to enjoy," Dominick stated. "Today, it's a delightful brunch at Golden Corral right here in Cicero."

Seniors interested in center-sponsored events like the brunch are encouraged to sign up. The process ensures that everyone can partake in these enjoyable outings. All registered seniors gathered at 9 a.m. at the PSO building before being transported to Golden Corral.

Upon arrival, the staff at Golden Corral extended warm hospitality to the seniors. The restaurant's attentive service ensured that each guest felt welcomed and valued.

"I am enjoying everything. The food is very tasteful, and I appreciate it," said Susie Palmerin, one of about 50 residents who arrived.

As plates were filled and conversations flowed, it was evident everyone was having a great time. Seniors relished the delicious fare and the opportunity to connect with friends and neighbors. The brunch became a joyful gathering, fostering community and shared experiences.

For those interested in future Senior Center activities, a simple step awaits: call the Cicero Senior Center at 708-222-8690 to sign up. Whether it's brunch, outings, or other engaging events, the center continues to create memorable moments for Cicero's seniors.

Residents enjoy a full brunch while catching up at Cicero's Golden Corral.

More than 50 folks enjoyed the brunch, courtesy of the Cicero Senior Center.

Some of the more popular dishes included warm breakfast options, such as French toast, bacon and eggs, and sausage.

Other popular meals included lunch option soup, beans, toast, and more.

Cicero's Dads and Daughters Enjoy Enchanted Evening

Just days before Valentine's Day, Cicero's fathers donned their finest attire and escorted their princesses to the 16th Annual Father-Daughter Dance. What began as a modest event in 2008 has blossomed into a cherished Cicero tradition, allowing fathers and daughters to create lasting memories together.

Thanks to the vision of President Larry Dominick and the dedication of the Cicero Youth Commission, this yearly celebration has become a highlight for local families. The Father-Daughter Dance offers a magical evening where dads and their princesses can revel in each other's company. It's a unique occasion that transcends the ordinary.

Year after year, tickets for the event sell out swiftly, and 2024 was no exception. On January 8, eager families secured their spots, and within a mere two weeks, the event sold out. The anticipation was palpable as Friday, February 9, approached.

Approximately 500 fathers and daughters converged at the Cicero Community Center, transforming the venue into a haven of music, laughter, and shared experiences. The Valentine's Father-Daughter Dance is a precious opportunity to strengthen the bond between generations. For one enchanted evening, girls become princesses, and dads become their devoted escorts.

Inside the community center, the atmosphere shimmered with excitement. Dads, impeccably dressed, escorted their daughters, resplendent in beautiful gowns. Patricia Salerno, Director of Special Events, emphasized that tickets were exclusively available through the Cicero Community Center to prevent scams. She hinted that next year's dance might require a larger venue due to overwhelming demand.

Upon arrival, fathers and daughters checked in seamlessly. Each girl selected a corsage, and families posed for framed photographs. Silly props added whimsy to the snapshots, printed right there for families to take home. Dinner and dessert were included, ensuring the evening was delightful and satisfying.

The gymnasium, adorned with heart-themed decorations, became a dance floor where fathers twirled their daughters, creating memories that would last a lifetime. As the music played and laughter echoed, the Cicero Father-Daughter Dance epitomized the magic of love and family bonds.

Cicero's Community Center featured a packed gymnasium for the evening of food, dancing, and fun.

Daughters wore their some of their best dresses for the special evening with their fathers.

Healthy Hearts Raises Cardiac Awareness

Cicero celebrated Valentine's Day with a robust focus on heart health. The annual Healthy Heart event, hosted by the Cicero Health Department, drew residents eager to prioritize their well-being.

Each year, the Cicero Health Department invites residents for free health screenings. The event is a proactive initiative to promote healthier lifestyles within the community. From blood pressure checks to cholesterol assessments, attendees engage in preventive measures that can significantly impact their health.

The Healthy Heart event offers more than clinical screenings. Cicero residents seized the opportunity to explore various facets of well-being. Yoga sessions, mini makeovers, and even blood draws were on the agenda. Dr. Katherine Skurski, Medical Director of the Cicero Health Department, emphasized the importance of self-care. "Taking care of yourself is paramount," Dr. Skurski stated. "Our commitment to these events underscores our dedication to the health and vitality of our community."

Fran Reitz, Town Collector, echoed this sentiment. She emphasized that many diseases are preventable through regular check-ups. The Cicero Health Department supports residents' medical needs, ensuring timely interventions and proactive health management.

Director of Health Management, Vanessa Parrish, highlighted the department's holistic approach. Each year, her team introduces fresh elements to enhance residents' well-being. This year, yoga instructors took center stage, transforming the gym into a serene yoga studio. The fusion of physical activity, mindfulness, and community engagement exemplified the department's commitment to comprehensive health.

As February marks American Heart Month, Cicero residents rallied around the theme of heart health. "We want you to LOVE your heart!" Vanessa Parrish exclaimed. The event served as a reminder that taking care of ourselves and each other is the most heartfelt celebration of all.

Residents arrived at the Community Center ready to learn all they could about heart and wholistic health.

Residents received free health screenings, haircuts, and other services to learn about their body and feel better about themselves.

Organizations and departments were present to provide information about how they can support residents throughout the year.

Healthcare supplies and information were not just for heart health but all aspects of well-being.
